Genre: Oldies, R&B,Soul & Rock & Roll

Entertainment pioneer, actor and entrepreneur, Renny Roker, has for decades blazed trails where few, if any have ventured. After years of achievements and accolades, coupled with career highs and lows.

Roker represents a renowned family ? one that includes the late actress Roxie Roker of the 1970?s sitcom, The Jefferson?s, Wally Roker of the do-op group, The Heartbeats, and renowned broadcaster and ?Today? show anchor, Al Roker. His nephew is famed rocker, Lenny Kravitz. He made a name for himself promoting some of the biggest acts in music in the 1960?s - 1980?s, selling out concert arenas nationwide for entertainers like Nat King Cole, Isaac Hayes, Donna Summer, Kiss, the O?Jays, Village People and Parliament Funkadelic. He starred in the classic 1974 film ?Johnny Tough? and organized international bike racing tournaments through his company Jag BMX, where he produced one of the top selling BMX bikes in the world. He is a man of many firsts ? among them, the first African American to produce a triathlon and a sports series that aired on all of the major networks including ESPN and the Golf Channel. To date, he has appeared in 53 motion pictures, 89 commercials, 422 TV episodes, 200 stage plays and he co-produced four motion pictures. ?I was always seeking to do something unique and different. There was a hunger inside of me to be the best and to do something that had never been done before,? Roker said. ?As a black man, much of this was unchartered territory and there were barriers, but my attitude and ambition helped me to keep pushing and it was well worth it.?
